

BERRY CAMPBELL

“The act of painting is for me, as a woman, an act of freedom, and a realization that an image generated by the female experience can be a powerful and creative expression for all humanity. My paintings are personal statements—extensions of myself.”

—Judith Godwin, 1978

